

Tomatoes

by Mark Dorough

You see two tomatoes. Both are red and look good. One has no taste but the other is full of flavor and tastes great. The one that tastes great took time to mature and grow on the vine. The other was picked too soon. Maybe that is the answer to why we go through the things we do. God wants us to become full inside of His goodness as we mature on His vine. We are like tomatoes; we can weather the storms of life as long as we are attached to the vine.

Mike