

Camping Story by Mike Dorough

We have camped in many places. In Canada we have camped at Lake Allison (outside of Vancouver, British Columbia), Jasper, Banff, and Lake Louise.

At Seven Seas (in Vancouver, British Columbia), we ate (several times) on a floating ship restaurant that brags about having the best buffet in the world. It has the best of the best of 70 items around the world. No tactical error here! Eat a little of a lot and a lot of what you like best. Note, the tea costs you by the glass. No seconds on tea.

In Oregon we camped in many places, mainly at Lake Billy Chinook (near Madras), The Cove Palisades State Park, Scout Lake, Jack Lake, Eagle Crest, and the Three Sisters area.

I remember Jennifer saved Michael's life when she wanted him, he was about to sit on a rattle snake, at Lake Billy Chinook.

Jennifer made several comments to Michael while camping. She told Michael he looked like three cows barfing, and the cows to be quite while people were trying to sleep.

We did a lot of camping over the years in Oregon. The equipment is 10 times better now than what it used to be.
